Pub reinvents itself as a takeaway for residents

A WELL known pub in Shepshed has reinvented itself amid the coronavirus lockdown - by offering an extensive takeaway service.

The Pied Bull has even launched an app via their website to make it easier for people to order.

And the response from locals has been amazing, with many taking up the new service.

Commenting on the pub's Facebook page, Bekki and Dougie said orders for Sunday, April 12, were soon fully booked and they were "knocked off our feet".

They said: "So sorry to those that have missed out but we wish we cook for everyone. Thank you to all of you for supporting us and being understanding."

They also urged the most vulnerable - who may have trouble accessing the app

- to visit <https://piedbullshepshed.com/> to see all the order and delivery options on the homepage.

They said: "We've scrapped the minimum order delivery charge as in the circumstances we don't mind going to the other side of Shepshed for a ham cob.

"These people really need us and all the rest of the fantastic pubs and food outlets doing the same."

The are planning to deliver food Monday to Saturday, between noon and 7pm, and Sundays from noon to 4pm (roast dinners, starters and puddings only).

Food being offered includes, starters, bar snacks, all day breakfast, specials, melts, soft tortilla wraps, cobs and baguettes, jacket potatoes, burgers, sides and extras, a children's menu, warm desserts and roast dinners.
